

Ambition Essential To Growth

George C. Smith
Head Of St. Louis
C. Of C. Addresses
Sedalia Chamber

"The growth of a community depends on the ambition of its leaders," said George C. Smith, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, addressing members of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce at a dinner-meeting at the Bothwell hotel Tuesday night. His subject was industrial development, and he spoke informatively on Sedalia, Pettis county, and its trade area including the eight surrounding counties, and the possibilities for growth and development.

Referring to Sedalia, Pettis county, and the adjoining counties, he said they had not grown in population in the last twenty years, and even though efforts had been made to bring new industries into the territory, particularly war plants, these efforts had not met with success.

There are many forces that stimulate or inhibit growth of a community, he said, declaring that basic research work is most essential, to ascertain the natural products of the community, to determine what type of development is best to interest new people and build large payrolls.

Stress On Agriculture
In this particular area he stressed agriculture, the fine farming country, transportation facilities, wheat, corn, milk, sand, clay and other products that are used so extensively in the commodities being developed today.

In his opinion a large amount of money is not so necessary to bring new industries into a community, as basic research work, clear thinking and ambition to succeed.

Mr. Smith, who was for years assistant to the president of the M. K. T. railroad, in charge of industrial development along the Katy Lines, frequently came to Sedalia, and is familiar with this area, its resources and possibilities.

Freely Answers Questions
At the close of his talk there were a number of questions, all of which Mr. Smith answered, showing his knowledge of his subject and of this community particularly.

I. H. Reed, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, who had introduced the speaker, mentioned at the close of his talk the need for an industrial development fund in Sedalia. He said that he will appoint the industrial committee to look into the matter, and work out a plan.

Mrs. Green Among Guests
Among the guests at the dinner were Mrs. Ellsworth Green, whose husband, Capt. Green, is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, on leave of absence and in service in India, and Mrs. Basil Leach of Moberly. Mrs. Green is living temporarily in Mexico.

Mr. Reed introduced them, also guests who were seated at the head table as follows, Mayor A. H. Wilks, Judge of the County Court, J. V. Kesterson, Miss Bertha Rose, president of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's club; Father A. J. Brunswick, who asked the invocation; Lawrence Barnett, president of the Rotary club; Clyde Heyson, vice-president of the Kiwanis club, taking the place of Harry Brunkhorst, president, who was out of the city; Noel Tweet, president of the Lions club; F. G. Buchanan, representative of the M. K. T. C. R. Kilbury, superintendent of the Missouri Pacific shops; T. W. Cloney, chairman of the industrial committee of the C. of C.; Robert Overstreet, and Ben Robinson, vice-presidents of the C. of C.; C. C. Van-Dyne, treasurer; Charles M. Hanley, immediate vice-president; Miss Marie Weller, secretary.

Mrs. W. L. Monegan and Abe Rosenthal gave a short musical program.

Turkey Dinner For All GI Joes and Janes

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(P)—Turkeys, galore, with cranberry sauce and sweet potatoes, will be a link with home tomorrow for practically every GI Joe and Jane in the European theater of operations.

Traditional Thanksgiving day dinners will be served in every mess in the United Kingdom and on the continent, with generous helpings passed forward to men in the front lines.

Thanksgiving religious services are planned for every post. In London U. S. Ambassador John G. Winant is to read the Thanksgiving proclamation in Westminster Abbey, where the Rt. Rev. Henry B. Hobson, Episcopal Bishop of Southern Ohio, will preach.

War Score in Pacific Area

U. S. FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 22.—(P)—Admiral Nimitz added up the score again yesterday.

The score: 63,388 Japanese killed and 3,267 captured in the Saipan-Guam-Tinian-Angaur-Peleliu actions which began June 14 and the last of which officially ended in September.

The totals included 6,962 enemy dead and 1,857 enemy prisoners, all killed and captured in endless patrol actions on the various islands following the ending of organized enemy resistance.

Saipan, bloodiest central Pacific battle up to that time, remained the most important in the latest tally. The admiral's communique said 26,277 Japanese were killed there and 2,068 captured. (These figures include only military personnel, not civilians. The date of the compilation would also indicate that they do not include the latest Saipan figures, 248 killed and 47 captured in a renewed hunt last week.)

The most significant figure was the revision for Tinian. After the battle patrols, said the communique, had killed 1,148 enemy personnel still loose on the island; but they added not a single prisoner to those in the stockades.

The Sedalia public library will be closed all day Thanksgiving day.

Volunteer for Front Lines

By Franklin F. Banker

DURBOSLAR, Germany, Nov. 21.—(Delayed)—(P)—The boys everybody thought were just plain crazy—GIs who voluntarily gave up soft and safe jobs in the rear to get some perilous frontline action—are taking it and liking it.

A non-combat buck private started it a couple of weeks ago by writing a letter to the Paris Stars and Stripes Bureau saying he was tired of being "I-A in a 4-F outfit" and wanted combat.

A major general read the letter. He said that was just the kind of man he wanted and invited the private to join his division. The

By Hal Boyle
WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY, Nov. 12.—(Delayed)—(P)—Doughboys of the Second infantry division say it took the Germans four years to build the Siegfried line, and it took the Americans four days to crack it and four hours to build a chapel inside it.

The rude log church is among a number of wooden buildings and winter-resistant structures erected by one battalion whose bivouac area now looks like an American western frontier settlement in pioneer days.

The simple spruce-log chapel stands out with a certain dignity in this ramshackle community. Protestant and Catholic services are held on alternate days, and certain percentages of men from each forward company are permitted to leave their cold, muddy positions in the heavy evergreen woods to attend church.

"That quota is always filled," smiled Chaplain Ernest Sinfeldt of Flushing, N. Y., whose pews for months have been foxholes and whose church has been roofed only by the sky.

Plain Cross on Roof

His present building is the first real church built by his khaki-clad congregation. It has a plain wooden cross mounted on the peaked roof. At sunset the cross throws shadows on former Nazi concrete pillboxes only a few feet away.

Inside, the worshippers sit on or kneel before roughly-hewn log benches. At the head of the room is a long table covered with a shining white altar cloth on which stand a silver crucifix and vases of fresh flowers.

Construction of the church was first suggested by the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Olinio M. Barsanti, former University of Nevada football and boxing star and one of the toughest and best-liked officers on this front. His mud-stained men took up the idea at once, and pitched into the job under the instruction of Pfc. Ernest C. Newman of Hurt, Va., the only carpenter in the outfit.

Cut and Chinked Logs

Lieut. Howell W. Thompson of Watertown, Tenn., was in charge of the work, with about a dozen men led by Sgt. Marvin L. Harwell of Riesel, Tex. Among those who cut and chinked the logs were Pfc. John S. Materniak of Butler, Pa.; Pfc. Roy D. Scroggins of Houston, Tex.; Pfc. Rufus Norton of Newman, Ga.; and Pvt. Blair W. Price of Lawndale, N. C.

On completion of the chapel, a half-mile from the frontlines, Capt. Sinfeldt dedicated it, with Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson as guest of honor.

As bombers roared overhead and gunfire rumbled in the distance, (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Car Wrecked, Wedding Plan Is Changed

Officer's Fiancee Believes Youth Who Has Car Is Mechanic

Wrecking late Tuesday night of a 1941 Chevrolet club coupe, owned by Mrs. Betty June Werner, Sikeston, by a youth who represented himself as a mechanic, caused postponement of wedding plans for Mrs. Werner and Lieut. Willard Conn, who were to have been married here today. The couple now plan on leaving Thursday for Sikeston where they expect to be married, and will return to Sedalia to remain until Lieut. Conn receives orders for transfer.

Mrs. Werner this afternoon said she picked up a soldier and a civilian the other afternoon while enroute to the SAAF to visit her fiancé who was a patient in the base hospital. The youth, in civilian clothes, spoke of the running condition of her car and told her he was in a garage in Sedalia and would like to have the job of repairing the car.

Mrs. Werner informed the boy, later identified as Ray Neitzert, 17, 810 East Eighteenth street, that she wanted to talk with Lt. Conn first. After making a list of things she wanted done to the car, she turned it over to him Tuesday.

Thought Car Was In Garage

She said she was under the impression he was going to take it to the Chevrolet garage where he would do the work, and then store the car there until she and the lieutenant returned to Sedalia. The first she knew that something had happened to her automobile was late Tuesday night when State Trooper Lloyd Amos, and Elmer Arnold, garage man, called at her room and informed her that it had been wrecked.

Neitzert, according to one of the parties in the car, was driving at a good rate of speed west on Thirty-second street, and tried to make the turn south on the Grand avenue road. The car skidded, rolled over once and came to a stop on its side.

Occupants of Car

In the car at the time of the accident were several friends, who said they did not know the car was being used without the owner's knowledge. They were: Dean Richardson, 15, 1120 East Fifteenth street; Billy Eugene Cramer, 18, 401 East Howard; Pvt. Ray Hatfield, 408 East Harvey; Velma Templeton, 16, who resides west of Sedalia; Ruth Hagerman, 15, 201 East Boonville; June Jerrell and Grace Jerrell, sisters, 805 East Eleventh street.

Mrs. Werner is stopping at the St. Francis hotel, and is accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ida Marie Perrin, Hondo, Tex., and a friend, Mrs. W. G. Harvey, Kalamazoo, Mich., who came here to attend the wedding.

The car was badly wrecked and was taken to the Brown Automotive Clinic by Elmer Arnold.

Roy Snyder to Head Board

Roy Snyder, circuit court reporter, was today appointed chairman of the Pettis County Rationing board, succeeding E. F. Hausam, Jr., resigned, according to announcement made this afternoon by J. G. Callaway, of Kansas City, OPA district supervisor.

W. M. Igenfritz, who has been a member of the Price Panel has been appointed by Mr. Callaway as chairman of that board succeeding Mr. Snyder, who held that office.

The appointment of Miss Thelma Young as chief clerk of the board was also confirmed today by Mr. Callaway.

Hoist Flags in Memory of Hitler

By The Associated Press
The office of war information distributed the following today: "A German press dispatch describing a recent oath-taking ceremony by 25,000 Volksturm draftees in the cathedral square of Magdeburg included this statement: 'Flags and standards were hoisted, national anthems resounded and arms were presented for a salute and in memory of Adolf Hitler (im gedenken an Adolf Hitler)'. Then it added: 'This most important hour of our town's history was over.'"

Japs Risk Whole Division In Effort to Hold Limon Bastion; Allies Take Mulhouse, Metz

More Than 1,000 Prisoners Surrender; Progress in Aachen Area Reported Slow

By William Frye
LONDON, Nov. 22.—(P)—Mulhouse and Metz fell today to Allied armies driving swiftly upon the Rhine through the shattered German front in Alsace-Lorraine and the Paris radio said the French were within 19 miles of Strasbourg.

The Paris report said French troops had captured Saverne, in the gap leading from fallen Sarrebourg to Strasbourg, capital of Alsace-Lorraine and largest French city still in enemy hands. Headquarters advices placed the U. S. Seventh army 23 miles away. Gen. Eisenhower's communique said Allied infantry and armor were plunging east "against crumbling resistance x x x on a wide front."

The whole German 19th army of 70,000 or so survivors was in imminent peril; part of its staff was captured at Mulhouse by the French First army.

(French troops are at the gates of Colmar after advancing 22 miles from Mulhouse, Gen. Charles De Gaulle said in a broadcast report recorded by the Federal Communications Commission. Colmar, a city of 46,000, is capital of Upper Alsace, the center of six roads and 40 miles south of Strasbourg.)

Take High Ground

The U. S. Ninth army hacked out important but less spectacular gains within sight of the Roer river on the Aachen front. In bitter weather and against savage resistance, Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's men captured high ground overlooking Linnich and Julich on the Roer, first major terrain barrier on the Cologne plain. They fought around Frontzoven. Berlin said a tank spearhead has reached Bourne, 25 miles from the western limits of the ruins of Cologne.

The breakthrough of the U. S. Seventh and French First armies on the southern end of the western front erased a definite German front along the northern slope of the difficult Vosges mountains, encrusted in snow.

More than 1,000 prisoners surrendered with the staff officers at Mulhouse, normally a humming industrial city of 96,697, 61 miles southwest of Strasbourg. Once a free city of Alsace, it lies nine miles from the German frontier on a tributary of the Rhine.

The drive on Strasbourg (193,000) carried through German defenses before the Saverne gap and ten miles beyond the French communications center of Sarrebourg, where three railroads and 11 highways converge.

Slow and painful progress was reported in the Aachen sector in the north, where Americans fought nearly a half mile into industrial Eschweiler and drove the Germans back against the Roer river, first major terrain obstacle on the Cologne plain.

Tank Battles

Melancholy German broadcasts said Great tank battles were being fought all the way from Aachen to the Swiss border and "exceed in violence anything hitherto known since the invasion of Europe."

Looking for Car he Loaned

Sedalia Police have requested the state highway patrol to be on the lookout for a 1941 Chevrolet convertible coupe, which is believed to be driven by Alvin Lewis Carter, 2/c P.O., who, it was said, borrowed it from Lieutenant Willis G. Adams, SAAF on November 19.

According to the police, Carter had borrowed the car from Lieut. Adams, to drive around Sedalia. It was said Carter, whose home is in Amarillo, Tex., was a friend of Mrs. Adams and her family, and because of this friendship he loaned the car to him.

The police said the lieutenant was under the impression that it was to be used only to drive about Sedalia.

It was said Adams, who has been in the naval service for some time was seriously wounded during a campaign. He was purportedly wounded in the head when struck between the eyes by a piece of shrapnel.

The car is blue in color and has an Alabama license 65C308.

U.S. Has Robot if Needed

By Edwin B. Greenwald

WRIGHT FIELD, O., Nov. 22.—(P)—The army air forces disclosed today it had developed a "good" robot bomb that could be used "if we need it" and said the weapon had been in test flight since Oct. 11th.

It is a version of the German V-1 which was loosed on England last summer, the air technical service command said in relating how it raced to reproduce the Nazi terror weapon in 60 days and then sent it skimming jet-propelled through the skies a month later.

Furthermore, its launching ramp is better than the Germans', the ATSC said. It can be built in four days whereas the Nazis required two weeks. The ATSC did not disclose the location of its proving grounds.

Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, deputy ATSC director, asserted that reconstruction of the bomb was proof that engineers left "no stone unturned."

"We may never need the robot bomb," he declared, "for the army air forces do not go in for indiscriminate bombing attacks. But if we do need it, we've got a good one."

Americans Occupy All Strategic Positions in North Except Limon

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Nov. 22.—(P)—American infantrymen hacked at Limon's defenses today in the face of an evident Japanese intention to hold its positions at almost any cost.

Fresh units of the 32nd Division had relieved to some extent the pressure on the gaunt and battleweary 24th infantry, which has carried the weight of the entire Leyte battle, and which yesterday smashed back another strong enemy attack on a road block across the Ormoc highway.

The 32nd Division was subjecting Limon, Japanese stronghold, to steady pressure and Japanese installations were being put out of commission one by one.

It was the only help available as yet for the 24th, holding the storm-drenched slope positions to which it has clung for 10 days.

General MacArthur's communique said "the enemy has committed his First Division in a desperate effort" to hold its position at Limon, and the belief was the Japs were prepared to sacrifice the whole division if need be.

Hold Strategic Positions

The Americans have occupied all strategic positions in the north except Limon itself. What appeared as an intended Japanese counterattack to retake positions on the north coast of Leyte was frustrated by an American movement south along the highway to Limon.

There has been some infiltration of the American lines, but in most instances these small enemy parties have been hunted down and destroyed.

These filtering tactics, together with typhoon-wrecked roads, have added to the American supply problem, but none of the lines has been cut for long. On some occasions the 24th Division is being supplied by parachute.

The position of the Japs defending Limon is precarious. The enemy sent his main force on Leyte against the Americans in another effort to relieve the beleaguered Japs, but was sent reeling back with losses.

Will Expand Rural Lines

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22.—(P)—The development of farm telephone lines will be one of industry's greatest post-war opportunities, Shields R. Smith of St. Louis, general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company for eastern Missouri and Arkansas, said here yesterday in addressing the annual Missouri Telephone Association convention.

Another convention speaker, J. C. Crowley, secretary of the Minnesota Telephone Association, predicted that rural telephone companies will be faced with government control unless they provide more experienced management and better service in the post-war period.

Shields R. Smith, mentioned in the above article, is a former Sedalian, and when here was district manager for the Bell Telephone company.

Mrs. J. C. Connor Club Speaker

"The Trend of Public Welfare," was the subject of an informative talk by Mrs. J. C. Connor, staff member in the Pettis county welfare office, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. She reviewed the local welfare situation in the present day as compared with the past and referred to the supplemental and helpful work of civic organizations assisting in minimizing the juvenile delinquency problem.

The speaker was introduced by W. M. Johns, acting program chairman in the absence of the Rev. A. J. Brunswick.

Vice President Clyde Heynen presided in the absence of President Harry Brunkhorst and announced a meeting of the board of directors and committee chairmen at Keuck's Friday noon.

Guests present were: Tom Kenan of St. Louis with J. J. Donlon, and L. W. Deason of Sedalia with C. R. Kilbury.

DAILY WASHINGTON

Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 — It hasn't leaked into print, but General Electric president Charles E. Wilson, ex-vice chairman of the War Production Board, has a lot of Big Business moguls boiling mad at him.

"I thought being in the government was hell," the big Irish production wizard remarked a little whimsically to a friend, "but this is worse."

However, Charlie Wilson is sticking to his guns. He made a speech in Atlanta, recently, proposing low prices after the war and high wages. The reception from Big Business was the chilliest he has ever received. The automobile people were especially irate. Word from inside the industry is that they planned to ask OPA for a 30 per cent price rise over 1942, perhaps settle for 20 per cent. So they have been calling Charlie Wilson all sorts of names, beginning with "traitor" and going on up.

Wilson spoke in Atlanta before a group of General Electric distributors, plus other businessmen. His two chief points were:

1—Industry must have the full cooperation of labor after the war. Wages must be higher. The take-home pay on a 40-hour week basis after the war must eventually represent the higher level of earnings that now prevail. (In other words, industry working 40 hours should get what it now makes in 48 hours.) But labor, in return must give industry more output. It must do some thinking to help industry, instead of promoting the slowdown. That's the only way we can make the system work.

2—Prices must be low, within the range of labor to buy.

"This world's got to be built around the boys who have been fighting this war," Wilson said in conclusion. "We've got to give them jobs. This is the day of the common man."

Give 'Em Money to Spend

Afterward, a friend jokingly remarked, "What have you been doing—talking to Henry Wallace?"

Wilson's reply to this and the criticism of his business friends is: "How am I going to sell my refrigerators if we don't give 'em wages to buy with?"

General Electric sold $500,000,000 worth of goods in 1940, expects to sell $800,000,000 by paying high wages and keeping prices down after the war.

Note—After his Atlanta speech, Wilson got a frantic wire from Under Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal urging that he make no more. Patterson was afraid Wilson would get people's minds distracted from war work, cause people to leave for private industry. Forrestal didn't feel as strongly as Patterson but was persuaded by Patterson to sign anyway.

Byrnes Forestalls Baruch

It was largely the persistent, persuasive charm of Barney Baruch that caused ex-Justice Jimmy Byrnes to change his mind and remain as War Mobilizer. The president very much wanted Byrnes to stay and several times told him so. But Baruch, who has been able to wield a powerful, hidden hand in the government through his fellow South Carolinian, pulled off a brilliant, energetic wire to that purpose.

One wire was Harry Hopkins. A few weeks ago Baruch had told a friend that he considered Hopkins one of the most sinister influences in government. But that didn't prevent the charming Wall-Streeter from calling on Harry and having him use his influence to keep Byrnes on as War Mobilizer.

Baruch also talked to Byrnes himself at great length. Finally he climaxed it all with a call on FDR.

As Baruch was leaving the president's office, a call came through to Byrnes' office at the extreme opposite end of the White House, saying that Baruch was on his way. Whereupon Byrnes picked up the phone, called the president and told him he had decided to remain on the job until the war with Germany was over.

"Why did you do that?" asked a friend, puzzled over the fact that Byrnes had called while Baruch was enroute to his office.

"I just didn't want Baruch to be able to say that he persuaded me to stay," said the War Mobilizer with a broad grin.

Note — Baruch's master stroke accomplishments through Byrnes have been the Hancock report on reconversion, which took care of Big Business but not little; the appointment of General Hines for veterans' re-employment; appointment of Will Clayton for surplus war property; ousting of Donald Nelson.

Merry-Go-Round

This is the first time since the Civil War that Pennsylvania has two Democratic senators. The new senator, Representative Francis J. Myers of Philadelphia, is another case of a strong internationalist replacing a semi-isolationist — "Puddler Jim" Davis, Republican secretary of labor under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. Myers' record on preparedness and international cooperation while in the house of representatives has been 100 per cent. . . . Biggest crowds in the halls of the Pentagon building these days are officers hanging around vending machines, waiting for them to be filled with cigarettes. . . . Newly elected Senator "Cowboy" Glen Taylor of Idaho is first cousin to sphinxlike Harold Dixon Young, who steers Vice President Wallace's political fortunes. . . . One of the best jobs of keeping the nation informed about its servicemen is quietly being done by Col. Al Warner and Col. Ed Kirby at the war department, both doing a bang-up job with the popular "Army Hour."

Dari Ann says

Did you ever start to make a recipe and find you had no sour milk or buttermilk? I had that happen yesterday. The "girls" were coming for lunch, and I planned — in fact WAS — whipping up my orange biscuits which require buttermilk. I remembered about using DARICRAFT with vinegar, and it REALLY worked! In fact, the biscuits were THE best I'd ever made. To get sour milk or buttermilk quickly, add 1 tablespoon vinegar to 1/2 cup DARICRAFT and 1/2 cup water and proceed. Here's the recipe:

Orange Biscuits
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
Sift into mixing bowl, then add and mix to consistency of coarse meal
4 tablespoons grated orange peel
1/4 cup shortening
Mix following in measuring cup and add to above slowly
1 1/2 cup DARICRAFT
1 1/2 cup water
Scant tablespoon vinegar
3 tablespoons orange juice
Knead slightly on floured board, roll and cut. Sprinkle top with sugar and orange juice. Bake in hot oven (450°) for 15 min.
Remember, the SECRET is DARICRAFT. You can get it at your grocers. Be sure to have a can for that "emergency" when you will need sour or buttermilk in a jiffy.

100 OCTANE GASOLINE won't grow wings on a car

EXPECT NO MIRACLES from your present car if the tank were filled with 100-octane gasoline.

Its motor was engineered specifically for the gasolines which were available at the time you bought your car. To secure the benefits of very high octane fuels, post-war motors will have much higher compression ratios, will be smaller and lighter, and will deliver greatly increased power and extraordinary mileage.

All this will be possible because of the super gasolines to be made available for motorists in the post-war period. And you have every reason to expect that Phillips will be among the first to offer these vastly improved motor fuels soon after victory.

Why? Because Phillips is today one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-octane aviation gasoline. Phillips is also one of the leaders in the war production of butadiene for synthetic rubber.

These achievements are a direct result of Phillips long years of peacetime research to extend the frontiers of knowledge concerning hydrocarbon chemistry. Other accomplishments, which cannot now be told for security reasons, flow from Phillips wartime exploration of the limitless possibilities of chemical production of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum.

This is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils . . . are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

THE STORY: Kabatek takes Ginger to a night club. Boggio is there. By lucky maneuvering they manage to get away without his seeing them.

XVI

THAT night, for the first time in years I had a nightmare and awakened in a cold sweat. In my dream Ginger and I had been sitting at a table surrounded entirely by mirrors. Then suddenly I'd looked up and there were Boggios all around us, each with a gun in his hand. I'd look to the left, and there he was. I'd look to the right, and he was there too. I'd look up and down, and in front of me and behind me. And even on the ceiling and on the floor. He just stood there, pointing the gun without saying a word. And I waited and waited, and still he didn't move. Until I screamed, "Go on, go on! Get it over with!" And then I realized it was all a dream.

I turned on the light, reached for a cigarette and began thinking. Right now I'd been scared out of any desire for Ginger. But that wouldn't last forever. I knew myself and I knew her. Maybe for two or three weeks we'd avoid each other. Then, some day I'd be summoned to the apartment and I'd see her again. That would be hell. What could a fellow do?

It was just about when the problem seemed insoluble that an inspiration hit me. I'd go away for awhile. Maybe California.

TO my surprise Boggio was far more receptive to my request than I thought he'd be. I'd gone over fully prepared for some stiff sales resistance and instead I found him in an amenable frame of mind. Apparently the pendulum of his mood had swung back again.

I started out by going into an act regarding my mental and physical condition. I'd overworked and felt I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. When I got started on a subject like that I go into it with such conviction that I almost sell myself.

Boggio sat there and listened. He didn't interrupt once. Just looked at me with a strange expression. Maybe he knew I was putting on an act and was waiting to see how far I'd go. One thing was certain, however, I had been going to court three or four times a week as he had suggested, and I'd bought a typewriter and written reports of the most interesting cases with comments on the verdicts. But instead of writing them up in simple, non-technical language so he could understand them, I had made them as involved as possible. I knew they had impressed him and they gave me the basis for my arguments. I'd knocked them out with relative ease but naturally I explained how I'd burnt the midnight oil and worked myself into a frazzle. After awhile, disconcerted by his silence, I broke off.

"Well?" he said. "Go on!"

"I've spoken my piece, Virgil. And I don't have to be a mind reader to know what you're going to say."

"And what am I going to say?"

"That when you were my age you didn't need any vacations and that I can forget the whole thing."

"That's where you're wrong, Leo. I want you to go."

I WAS flabbergasted!

"Only I don't know why you want to go to California?" he added.

I couldn't very well tell him that the more miles I put between Ginger and myself, the better it would be for all parties concerned.

"It may sound silly to you," I said, "but I've always wanted to see oranges without a trademark on them, growing on bushes or whatever they grow on. And palm trees."

C REED BY THE FOX

"What's wrong with Florida?"

He had me behind the eight ball. Maybe the whole thing was a trap. Maybe he knew why I wanted to go so far away in such a hurry. Which would also account for his letting me go. Suddenly I had an inspiration.

"I want the long drive," I said. "And I want to see this country of ours. So far it's only been squares and rectangles on a map. I want to see what it really looks like."

Boggio was in an ironical frame of mind. He made a clicking noise with his tongue.

"I should live to see you wave the flag."

"Look, Virgil," I said. "Is there any special reason why you don't want me to go to California?"

He shook his head.

"The only thing I don't want is for you to go too far away from New York. Suppose I need you?"

"I only figure to be gone about six weeks. A week going, a week coming back, and a month there. That isn't long."

He thought it over for a few moments, then shrugged.

"All right," he said. "Go to California. But if you stay one day longer than six weeks I'll give you hell."

"Thanks, Virgil."

"One more thing," he said. "When you get to Hollywood, check in at the Plaza on Vine Street. I may want to get in touch with you, and besides it's a good place."

Boggio knew all the good hotels from here to the Equator.

"Right!" I said. "The Plaza on Vine Street."

"When are you leaving?"

"This afternoon, if I can."

"What's the rush? Running away from a dame?"

That was all that was missing! "Stop kidding, Virgil. There isn't any dame. Only I'm so sick of this damned place that any time I can get out isn't too soon. So long, Virgil." I walked over to the door.

"So long, Leo," he answered. And then, as an afterthought added begrudgingly, "Have a good time!"

Camp Crowder Sets A Proud Record

At Bill Webster's the other night we got to talking about all the things that make us proud to be Missourians.

Judge Cunningham thought we should be particularly proud to have Camp Crowder, down there at Neosho, designated by the Office of War Information as one of the outstanding camps in the country for the orderly conduct of the soldiers.

"That's right," exclaimed Sam Abernethy, "I stayed all night at Neosho with my cousin right after the soldiers had been paid. A million dollars had been put into circulation that day and those soldiers certainly seemed to enjoy spending it. But they were just as well behaved as our folks here at home on Saturday night."

From where I sit, we Missourians should be proud of the self-regulation program of the Brewing Industry which has done so much to provide wholesome surroundings for the boys who like a cold glass of beer when they are off duty. Soldiers who wear the good conduct ribbon know how much this means to them.

Poor Digestion? Headachy? Sour or Upset? Tired-Listless?
Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.
Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.
Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.
Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10c and 25c.

STOMACH SUFFERERS BEWARE
Ulcers Might Follow . . .
If the symptoms of acid stomach distress such as poor digestion—heartburn—sour or upset stomach—gasiness—bloating or sleeplessness causes you to feel miserable from morning till night—if your food sours and your stomach bloats with gas because of hyperacidity—if you are nervous and don't sleep well, go to Star Drug Store and get a large bottle of STAR'S TRICARB GASTRIC TABLETS. Take them according to directions for seven days. If, at the end of this trial period, you are not thoroughly convinced that you are receiving the benefits and relief that you expected, return the unused bottle to us and we will gladly refund the full purchase price. 25 tablets 98c, 100 tablets $3.00.

THE POWER OF A Policy
Giving value, dollar for dollar, has always been our way. We adhere to our standards with a tenacity that sometimes results in minimizing our profit but never the number of our satisfied customers. Giving satisfaction is the only way we get satisfaction. That policy, we find, is the best one of all.

HOW TO CURE THAT STICKY IRON

Don't "cuss" at a sticky sole plate on your electric iron. Here's an easy cure. Heat the iron, then rub the iron over a piece of paper sprinkled with salt. This removes starch or other substances. Then wax the sole plate by rubbing paraffin or beeswax over it. Finally remove the excess wax by running the iron over a clean piece of paper. Burnt starch may be removed with fine steel wool when iron is cool.

- 1 Never iron over buttons, snaps, zippers or hooks and eyes. Such objects score the sole plate of the iron.
- 2 Use extreme care to avoid dropping your iron. You may break some vital part that is impossible to replace.
- 3 Be sure iron is cool before putting it away. And don't wrap cord around the hot iron.
- 4 Take good care of your iron plug. Don't let it kink. Pull out plug by grasping plug, not the cord.

Annual Thanksgiving Day Game Started in K. C. 53 Years Ago

By Frank Crawford

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Spawmed here 53 years ago when players sported handlebar mustaches and fans paid two bits to get in, the Kansas-Missouri football game will return to Kansas City tomorrow for the first time in 33 years.

Other Big Six Games Saturday
The Big Six, sensing that this is enough excitement for one day, has delayed its other football activities until Saturday when Kansas State meets Nebraska and Oklahoma plays Oklahoma A. & M. in another of those Hatfield-McCoy feuds.

Always exciting and never predictable, the Missouri-Kansas rivalry had a typical beginning October 31, 1891, at old Exposition Park. Three thousand spectators, some of whom paid another 25 cents and sat in covered stands, watched an underdog Missouri team score before the favored Kansas could get underway. They scored another 4-point touchdown but Kansas finally won 22-8.

The crowd, divided between baseball fans, society folk and collegians, was enthusiastic. The city customers, many of them seeing football for the first time, were particularly impressed by the vociferous and systematic repetition of fantastic yelling.

1911 To College Campuses
Until 1911, when the annual struggle was returned to the college campuses, large crowds saw the games here. Eighteen thousand watched the 1910 farewell battle which ended in a 5-5 tie. Tomorrow 20,000 are expected to make it a sellout at Ruppert Stadium—and to the tune of $3.85 top instead of that 1891 fifty cent maximum. But this won't be the biggest crowd in the history of the event. More than 31,000 paid to see Mizou win in Lawrence in 1929.

Disabled Soldiers and Marines to Compete

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Blind and disabled marines will compete against similarly handicapped soldiers in a unique rowing race on the Schuylkill river within the next two weeks.

Both crews of war veterans—the marines from the naval hospital here and the soldiers from the army's Valley Forge General hospital at Phoenixville, Pa.—are being coached by W. E. Garrett, Gilmore, former national singles sculling champion, who says, "These lads are really good oarsmen, despite their handicaps."

Sammy Snead to Try for a Comeback

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22.—(AP)—Can Slammin' Sammy Snead come back?

That was the question puzzling America's leading pro linksmen today as they turned up for Portland's $15,500 open tournament beginning Thursday and lasting through Sunday.

That, and Lord Byron Nelson, 1944's top money-winner, be stopped in this 72-hole medal play meet that opens the richest winter swing in golfing history? Snead won the 1942 P.G.A. crown, then entered the navy. He recently was discharged.

Snead hit town yesterday and in his first practice round fired a respectable 74, two strokes above par.

As for Nelson, he turned in a warmup 70 over the 6,425-yard Portland Golf club layout.

Georgia Tech-Tulsa To the Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 22.—(AP)—Now that Georgia Tech and Tulsa have been signed for 1945, it'll take quite a hunt for the Orange Bowl to find any more New Year's day football precedents to smash.

In their quest for teams which will stage a sparkling show, promoters of the Miami game knocked over just about the last of the bowl traditions yesterday by naming Tulsa and Georgia Tech for a replay of their exciting battle in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans last January 1 when Tech put over a late touchdown to win, 20 to 18; and,

Grandma Switches Millions of Mothers To Her Idea of Mutton Suet and Medication

"Old Reliable" For Relieving Chest Colds' Muscle Tightness—Coughing, Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pain, Chapped Lips and Nostrils, Simple Bruises and Sprains and Many Other Home Uses.

Grandma was a great one for "rubbing" the miseries of chest colds and many other simple pains and aches of her family. The rub she used was medicated in her own way but she insisted that it contain mutton suet. She liked the way mutton suet disappeared as it helped carry medication to nerve ends in the skin to relieve pain.

Today science has modernized Grandma's old-time pain relief principle to bring you Penetro, the salve with a base that contains old-fashioned mutton suet plus 5 active ingredients. Now mothers everywhere are praising this newer relief and thanking Grandma for her idea that is switching habits of long standing. During this season of colds, Penetro is so helpful in easing chest muscle tightness, soothing chest rawness, loosening phlegm and relieving coughs. Rubbed on chest, throat, back it melts instantly, quickly vanishes to act 3 ways—(1) To relieve pain at nerve ends in skin. (2) To ease chest muscle tightness by counter-irritation. (3) To soothe irritated breath passages through inhaled aromatic vapors.

Many households call Penetro a real friend in so many other ways, too—as it eases neuralgic and rheumatic pain, takes sting from chapped lips and nostrils, acts as soothing dressing for bruises, minor cuts. No wonder mothers today are praising Penetro and druggists everywhere are recommending it. So clean, so white, so easy-to-use and such a comfort-bringer for so many simple every day home needs. Do as millions are doing—today get your jar of economical Penetro.
